Master of Arts in Education

Take Your Passion for Teaching to a Higher Level

Passionate educators looking for growth and advancement are encouraged to pursue a Master of Arts in Education from National University. Candidates will expand their knowledge and opportunities as they learn about historical, philosophical, psychological, and social foundations of education; analyze issues of educational equity and diversity; develop understanding of students with learning differences; examine the foundations of curriculum, assessment, and instruction; and use educational research to deepen critical thinking skills.

Candidates will have opportunities to explore areas of interest such as Educational Technology, Teacher Leadership, e-Teaching and Learning, and U.S. Education in a Global Context.

Program highlights:
- Understand diversity issues and find ways to support equity in education.
- Integrate foundational theory and develop skills to make subject matter comprehensible to all learners.
- Intelligently analyze educational research, evidence-based practices, and academic writing.
- Apply theoretical foundations of education to examine personal, societal, and organizational practices.

Candidates must also choose one of the following specializations:

Specialization in Best Practices
Academic Program Director: Joanne Gilbreath; (858) 642-8358; jgilbreath@nu.edu

The Best Practices Specialization instructs students in research-based Best Practices that accelerate student achievement. The program is based on 11 years of school-based research that turned around low-achieving schools and accelerated achievement at all schools where the Best Practices were used. Students will learn how to implement effective teaching strategies that accelerate student achievement and engage students in 21st-century learning. An interdisciplinary approach to learning will enable teachers to develop a systematic approach for teaching interdisciplinary vocabulary across the curriculum.

Teachers will learn how to use both textual and digital comprehension strategies, critical/creative 21st-century questioning and 21st-century problem-solving. An emphasis will be placed on differentiated and targeted instruction, student engagement/motivation strategies, cooperative, and other effective grouping patterns, and technological multimedia applications. All the Best Practice strategies will be tied to standards-based direct and indirect instruction.

Effective strategies for English language learners and other diverse learners are integrated throughout the four courses in Best Practices in Teaching. Along with learning the strategies listed above, candidates will be taught how to create multidisciplinary standards-based lesson plans using the structure of Teach, Practice, and Apply.

Program Learning Outcomes
Upon successful completion of this program, students will be able to:

- Integrate Best Practices for standards-based instruction across content areas.
- Use Best Practices teaching strategies across the curriculum.
- Apply to their teaching the framework of Teach, Practice, and Apply using Best Practice teaching strategies.
- Implement Best Practice teaching strategies for the development of vocabulary, math, reading comprehension, and interdisciplinary learning.
- Apply student engagement/motivational strategies.
- Integrate Best Practices in multimedia-interactive classroom instruction.
- Demonstrate a repertoire of differentiated instructional strategies.

Required Courses
(4 courses; 18 quarter units)
- MAT 670  Theory Best Practice Teaching
- MAT 671  Appl. Best Practice Strat. in Cl.
- MAT 674  Differentiated Instructon
- MAT 675  21st Century Multimedia & Tech

Specialization in e-Teaching and Learning
Academic Program Director: Thomas Reynolds; (858) 642-8358; treynold@nu.edu

The e-Teaching and Learning Specialization in the Master of Arts in Education Program is designed to meet the growing need for quality online instructors in PK-16, community colleges, and corporations. The specialization focuses on: learning and applying effective student-centered online pedagogical skills, developing online curriculum that adheres to the National Standards for Quality Online Teaching, and assessing online learning using multiple assessment strategies. Upon completion of this specialization, candidates will be prepared.

Program Learning Outcomes
Upon successful completion of this program, students will be able to:

- Effectively teach in the online learning environment
- Analyze professional standards, trends and issues in the online environment.
- Demonstrate the use of active teaching and assessment strategies for the online environment.
- Apply evidence-based best practices research in the online teaching environment.

- ETL 680  Introduction to e-Teaching
- ETL 682  Active Teaching and Learning
- ETL 684  Differentiated Online Instruct.
- ETL 686  Designing Instr. Materials

Prerequisite: ETL 680, ETL 682 and ETL 684

Specialization in Educational Technology
Academic Program Director: Cynthia Sistek-Chandler; (858) 642-8322; cchandler@nu.edu

This specialization is designed for individuals wishing to develop their knowledge and skills for using technology in the educational setting.

Program Learning Outcomes
Upon successful completion of this program, students will be able to:

- Integrate interdisciplinary connection between evidence-based technologies for multimedia instruction.
- Use teaching strategies to accommodate learners in an online or blended environment.
- Participate in online community building and web-based interactive activities.
- Assess the effectiveness and efficiency of multimedia courseware and internet resource for use in instruction and delivery system.
- Examine the critical issues involved in designing effective distance educational programs.
- Design web-based courses using web page design authoring tools.
Required Courses
(4 courses; 18 quarter units)
EDT 605  Education Theory & Technology
EDT 610  Teaching Online
EDT 660  Multimedia & Interactive Tech.
EDT 671  Curriculum for Online Learning
Prerequisite: EDT 605, EDT 610 and EDT 660

Specialization in Teacher Leadership
Academic Program Director: Sidney Castle; (858) 642-8363; scastle@nu.edu
This five-course specialization comes from the Advanced Learning Press Center for Performance Assessment, which offers a unique master’s degree program that provides teachers with the skills and theories to be leaders in their classrooms and schools. It is a collaborative effort with Advanced Learning Press, which already offers a ten-course master’s degree in educational leadership. All the courses will be offered online. Similar to the National Board Specialization, the capstone is an alternative course to MAT 640 Applications of Research for the Art of Teaching. The capstone course is MAT 655 Leadership Impact: Synthesis of Theory and Practice.

Program Learning Outcomes
Upon successful completion of this program, students will be able to:
- Demonstrate an understanding of the principles of effective educational accountability.
- Demonstrate the ability to analyze and understand research on educational leadership.
- Demonstrate an understanding of how to lead learning communities and cross-cultural educational initiatives within school and classroom.
- Demonstrate the ability to build professional relationships and networks for instructional leadership.

Required Courses

MAT 654  Seminar in Social Issues
MAT 655  Leadership Impact Seminar

Specialization in Teaching Mathematics
Academic Program Director: Zhonghe Wu; (714)429-5144; zwu@nu.edu
Designed to improve the quality of teaching mathematics in grades K-9, courses focus on the pedagogy of mathematics and the development of balanced instructional programs that meet the needs of today’s diverse students. In order to be successful in this program, potential candidates should have basic mathematics knowledge and skills (equivalent to CSET multiple subject and Praxis II Elementary Education) or above.

Program Learning Outcomes
Upon successful completion of this program, students will be able to:
- Demonstrate the ability to develop a balanced program of mathematics instruction that includes conceptual understanding, procedural fluency, and problem solving in algebra, geometry, statistics, probability and number theory.
- Apply evidence-based best practices research in the delivery and evaluation of a balanced mathematics education program.

Required Courses
(4 courses; 18 quarter units)
MAT 635  Contemporary Issues/Challenges
MAT 636  Teaching Algebra/Number Theory
Prerequisite: MAT 635
MAT 637  Teaching Geometry/Measurement
Prerequisite: MAT 635 and MAT 636
MAT 638  Teaching Probability/Stats
Prerequisite: MAT 635, MAT 636 and MAT 637

Specialization in U.S. Education in a Global Context
Academic Program Director: Peter Serdyukov; (858) 642-8333; pserdyuk@nu.edu
Courses are designed for K-12 teachers. With a focus on global education, content offered in this program will provide educators with advanced views on U.S. school practices based on comparative analysis of international educational systems. Students will gain knowledge of issues affecting education and innovative approaches in teaching and learning that will be applied in contemporary school environments.

Program Learning Outcomes
Upon successful completion of this program, students will be able to:
- Analyze the interdependence among socio-economic, political, geographic and technological factors at both national and global levels and their impact on education and educational systems.
- Analyze the ways in which cultural, religious and linguistic factors affect countries’ choices of educational systems and educational priorities.
- Evaluate various international educational theories and practices using research and personal experiences in order to make improvements to current school environments.
- Implement new knowledge of innovative international educational systems, educational theories, and practices into practical recommendations for improving teaching and learning in U.S. schools.
- Design effective organizational, technological or instructional applications to address challenges in the U.S. professional educational environment.

Specialization Requirements
(4 courses, 18 quarter units)
MAT 620  Multidimensional Education
MAT 621  Impact of Culture & Language
Prerequisite: MAT 620
MAT 622  Comparative Ed. Systems
Prerequisite: MAT 621
MAT 623  Transformative Ed. Practices
Prerequisite: MAT 622
