

COLLEGE OF PROFESSIONAL STUDIES

BACHELOR OF PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

Serve the Public in Local, State, or Federal Government

Careers in the public administration field are varied and challenging. If you choose to pursue this dynamic degree, there are wide career opportunities you can pursue in government at the local, state, and federal levels. Your career path could include teaching or training assignments, or research in government organizations and in nonprofit organizations. The public sector is always in need of professionals with the rigorous training to meet the complexities of the management of public programs and assets.

In the program you'll be exposed to the central theories of public administration. You'll learn how to analyze the operations and procedures of public management as well as nonprofits, and you'll develop relevant management skills. You'll find ways to apply public administration theories and practices in program and resource management, and understand accounting and budgeting for government agencies and nonprofits. This is an important and respected career path, as all cities, communities, and citizens rely on sound public administration.

Program highlights:

- Entire program can be completed online
- Evaluate the role of community groups in local government
- Analyze ethical challenges facing the public sector
- Use research to address current issues in public administration
- Collect data, review literature, and analyze data, and effectively present your findings orally and in writing

Academic Program Director: Kenneth Goldberg; (858) 642-8217; kgoldberg@nu.edu

The Bachelor of Public Administration (BPA) is designed to meet the educational and professional needs of individuals in the public sector who are interested in professional or career advancement. It also prepares individuals for challenging and dynamic careers in government at the local, state, and federal levels. Individuals completing the program are prepared for mid-level positions, teaching, training assignments, or research in the government and nonprofit organizations.

Bachelor of Public Administration/Master of Public Administration Transition Program

Students who are currently enrolled in the Bachelor of Public Administration program and have at least a GPA of 3.0 and are within six courses of graduation, may register for the BPA/MPA transition program by taking two MPA classes as electives during the BPA program. To be eligible, students must apply for and begin the MPA program within six months of completing their BPA program. Students may choose up to two of the graduate-level public administration courses (with the exception of PAD 631 and PAD 644). For students in the BPA/MPA transition program, the university will waive up to two graduate-level public administration courses taken as part of the bachelor's degree, but these students must still meet the residency requirements for the MPA. Students must complete graduate-level coursework taken as part of the BPA degree with a grade of "B" or better.
